The speaker also introduced the concept of trademark to students by stating that it is a visual symbol in a word form or in the form of colour, label, applied to products for sale with a view to indicate the consumer that the said product is manufactured by a particular person or organization with a definite source of origin and subsequently to differentiate that product from that of any other person's or organization's product of similar type and function.

The Speaker also mentioned about the internal and external challenges that impact trademark management as follows:

Internal challenges

- Developing a trademark management strategy
- Hiring and training skilled trademark managers
- Developing new trademarks
- Leveraging and protecting current trademarks

External challenges

- Trademark trolls
- The online world
- The global challenge
